* Standard 8 oz. measuring cup

INDIVIDUAL MEALS

Add one scoop (provided, 2.5g) to 1.5 ounces (42.5g) of boneless meat. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons of water and stir. The amount of water can be adjusted to your cat's taste and preference.

WITH COOKED MEAT

The amount of premix to use is based on the weight of raw boneless meat prior to cooking. Cook meat according to instructions on the website (www.foodfurlife.com). Include all pan drippings and/or water used to cook the meat in the food. Allow cooked meat to cool prior to adding the EZComplete fur Cats Premix and water according to the batch instructions, above. For optimum texture do not store prepared food in the refrigerator; portion and freeze immediately after preparing.

THAWING & SERVING:

Do not thaw at room temperature. Thaw in refrigerator or for rapid thawing for immediate use, place container in a bowl of lukewarm water. When thawed, mix and serve. Feed within half an hour of serving. For cooked meals use the rapid thawing method.

TRANSITIONING YOUR CAT TO EZCOMPLETE FUR CATS:

Please slowly transition your cat to the EZComplete diet. Prepare the food as directed, and mix a small amount (about ½ teaspoon) into the current food/meals. Increase the amount of food made with EZComplete fur Cats daily (or as your cat accepts), proportionally reducing the original food until you are feeding 100% EZComplete. For more detailed information on transitioning, please refer to www.foodfurlife.com.

FEEDING GUIDELINES

Raw-fed cats typically eat between 2% – 4% of their body weight daily. The average adult cat will eat 4.5oz/128g per day—adjust up or down based on your cat's size, activity level, and age.

Kittens should be fed as much as they want, at least 4 times a day until 4 months of age, when the feedings can be reduced to 3 times a day. As the growth slows down, please reduce the amount of food accordingly. Pregnant and lactating cats will generally eat double the average daily requirements, and should have a constant supply of food.

Please note the above are general guidelines, please consult your veterinarian for your cat's specific daily nutritional requirements.

We recommend dividing the daily food requirement into at least three meals per day. The timing of meals does not need to be evenly spaced: most feed in the morning, early evening, and before bed.

It is important to feed a varied diet that includes at least three different proteins. For more information, please visit our website.

NEVER FORCE OR STARVE A CAT INTO A NEW DIET.

WARNING: Use only as directed. This is a premix that turns boneless meat into a complete and balanced food. EZComplete fur Cats is not intended for use with any already balanced cat food and should not be used in any commercial cat food. Do not use EZComplete fur Cats as a vitamin or with any other nutritional supplement.
