

be Free! A healthy and ethical choice for your cat!

TCfeline USA is finally taking the dried egg yolk out of the raw cat food premix for the love of all animals. This decision follows the example of the Canadian founder who implemented this change for Canadian customers nearly three years ago with great success.

The vast majority of commercial egg laying hens in the USA are kept in battery cages. For the birds, it is a short life of intense confinement in approx. 68-76 sq in of wire cage per bird with no way to act like a chicken. This is behaviorally and physically cruel. When we buy the dried egg yolk for the TCfeline cat food premix, we do not yet have the option to buy organic or from free run chickens. We only have one option: to support battery caged commercial laying hens, which are routinely given medicated feed to keep diseases that are exacerbated by such intensive management systems from killing all the birds.

We think the time has finally come to be free from all of that.

be Free! to add yolk from fresh eggs to the cat food, which are much more nutritious than dry egg yolk.

... to make your own choice of free run, free range, un-medicated, or organic eggs, or to buy eggs from the farm stand on your street or even use the eggs from your own chickens!

... to omit egg yolk altogether, whenever you want to or need to. Egg yolk is an amazing food for cats, but it is not essential for them.

... from inadvertently supporting the cruelty of battery caged hens and be free to give your support for chickens to be free!

be a part of a global move to ban battery cages for commercial laying hens by making your voice heard with your choice as consumer. We will, with our decision, allow you to add fresh egg yolks to your home-made cat food for a healthier planet.

TCfeline[®]

RAW DIET PREMIX
for a homemade cat food

Made in the U.S.A. by
KBPS, LLC
P.O. Box 1485, Philomath, OR 97370
www.knowbonespetsupply.com

What does this mean for the TCfeline cat food premix?

The dry egg yolk took up 1/3 of the weight and 1/2 of the volume of the premix. Naturally, without dried egg yolk in the premix, measurements will change.

Preparation Instructions:
Yields enough to feed the average adult cat for 10 days.

-  1. NEW: Weigh 40g (1/4 cup) TCfeline premix.
-  2. Add 250ml (1 cup) cold water. Whisk thoroughly. NEW: Add 2 fresh egg yolks, if desired.
-  3. Add 900g (2lbs.) raw meat of your choice and 100g (1/2 cup) raw liver. Combine.
-  4. Divide into servings. Freeze food for storage.

Feeding Instructions:
Feed 65g (1/4 cup) of finished cat food 2 x day to an average adult cat weighing 4.5kg (10lbs.). Adjust amount and/or frequency as needed.

From now on you will only need 40g or 1/4 cup of premix (equal all the other ingredients besides the dry egg yolk) for the same amount of 900g or 2 lbs. of meat. To that, add 2 fresh egg yolks, and give your cat the full nutritional benefit this great food has to offer.

Each pouch now contains 480g of premix or 12 x 40g, which equals 12 batches of cat food.

Before, a pouch contained 600g of premix with dry egg yolk or 10 x 60g, which equaled only 10 batches of cat food.

We are very happy about this change, which makes for a better cat food and better choices for the welfare of animals. Please contact us if you have any questions about this change. We want you to be as confident with this change as we are.

To learn more about battery caged chickens and the international movement to ban this practice, search for "battery caged chickens" online.

Sincerely, Know Bones Pet Supply, LLC
the manufacturer and distributor for TCfeline USA

Be Free!
No more eggs from battery caged hens!
An ethical product for the well-being of your cat

TCfeline
RAW DIET PREMIX
for a homemade cat food

Made in the U.S.A. by
KBPS, LLC
P.O. Box 1485, Philomath, OR 97370
www.knowbonespetsupply.com